FAQs of the Month

How do I apply for COE and AOE scholarships?

- To be eligible for COE/AOE scholarships, students must first complete the General Scholarship Application. Then, complete the additional engineering application. When completing the engineering application, indicate your major to be considered for AOE level awards.
- Many, but not all, scholarships require demonstrated financial need. It is recommended that applicants complete the FAFSA.
- The engineering scholarship application is open from Jan. 17th - March 1st.
- Students receiving COE and/or AOE level awards will be notified in the summer.
- For more information and instructions visit the COE webpage: Scholarships for Current Students.

I'm graduating in May! How do I buy graduation apparel?

- Graduation regalia can be purchased through the University Bookstore. Order online here.
- Students who have completed 60 credit hours at VT and have a GPA of 3.4 or higher qualify for an honors sash. The University Bookstore expects to have these available starting in mid-April.

Where can I get extra support with study skills, test preparation and time management?

Is tutoring available for my courses?

- Find tutoring resources relevant to AOE students on the AOE Tutoring & Academic Support web page.
- The AOE chapter of Sigma Gamma Tau (SGT) is now offering tutoring for some AOE courses.
- To get connected with a tutor, email SGT (sigmagammatauvt@gmail.com). In your email, indicate which course and/or concept you need assistance with.
- The Student Success Center and some other departments offer tutoring for a variety of courses.
- Also, remember to make use of office hours with your professors/TAs.
